How the survey was conducted:

Midwest Construction's Top Contractor Survey was developed to identify the general contractors and construction managers doing the most work in Illinois, Indiana Eastern Missouri and Wisconsin. We mailed survey forms to subscribers, members of contracting associations and companies that participated in previous years. Follow-up calls were made to firms identified as the largest in the region to ensure their opportunity to participate. All information was verified with an officer of the published companies. The responses were then tabulated. Only the largest firms in the region made the list. Published here are the Top Contractors of 2009. For more information call 312-233-7473. <<
